DEVILED ABOUT A CHARACTER.

The second column of the editorial page of Marcellus Emery's paper of Saturday evening contained two articles. The first was a shameful and impotent resurrection of an infamous forgery, which he was compelled to expose and confess of his telegraphic paper; and the next was a communication headed: "Hon. John B. Foster to our Genial Neighbor." The articles submitted to us as corresponding coupled as the two orators of the Dexter Greenback meeting to whom we recently referred. Emery's article was addressed to the public, and was signed by Mr. Foster was addressed personally to the editor of this paper. We only infer that his reason for not sending it to us was a belief that its publication in the readers of WHIG AND COURIER would not prove of any particular advantage to Mr. Foster. We are inclined to think his judgment on that point correct. We have read the letter and failed to find anything in it of special interest to us or to the public. The impression we derive from its perusal is that Mr. Foster is troubled about his character, and has deemed it necessary to write a letter about it to be printed in the Bangor Commercial. But we have no special interest in that subject and can't imagine why Mr. Foster should suppose that we or the public are absorbed in its contemplation. We are conducting a campaign for Honest Money, on a very solid basis, and we do not think that Mr. Foster's character or reputation is a plank in any part of the platform. If that character is in the canvas at all, Mr. Foster is the man who has thrust it forward. We heard no person make any public mention of Mr. Foster and certainly never dreamed a thought to him, until he dashed into the fray at Oldtown, deploring that character of it is the interest of the people. Even then we did not notice him, as we were not so interested about his character as he seemed to be, and it was only when we learned that he has undertaken to assail the characters of other people, that we bestowed upon him a very brief and appreciative paragraph. We assure Mr. Foster that his character seems to trouble him a vast deal more than it does us, or anybody that we know. A good character certainly needs no bolstering in the Bangor Commercial, and it is doubtful if a bad one could be benefited in that quarter.

One mistake of Mr. Foster's we feel called upon to correct. He assumes that we intimated that Mr. John F. Robinson was an unfit companion for Mr. Foster. We did not think of the, or intend to convey any such idea. Neither did we intimate that Mr. Foster was an unfit companion for Mr. Robinson. On the contrary, we said Mr. Foster had "got into congenial company," which would not indicate that we thought there was anything inappropriate in the companionship.

Mr. Foster wants to know on what au-

THE FORGERY NAILED!

Crammed Down its Inventor's Throat.

The Fraud Exposed by Telegraph!

EMERY DRIVEN TO THE WALL!

Forced to an Abject Confession!

On Friday Marcellus Emery deliberately paraded in the columns of his paper, with the most sensational display and inflammatory comment, the alleged text of a circular from the Secretary of the Amory Man Bankers' Association, which had been long ago exposed and denounced as an infamous forgery, and which was known to be such in every live newspaper office in the land. We denounced Emery for the villainy of publishing and seeking to introduce the gold swindle in this manner, but he had the hardihood to persist in the perpetration of the fraud, and on Saturday followed up the original effusion with a [illegible] headlining as follows:

A Secret of Discriminated Money!

Then Wrote of the letter that came to hand in the form of the Indictment circular to the National Banks by Hugh McCulloch, Secretary of the American Bankers' Association, and which he claimed to be in possession of. Then followed an [illegible] of the circular, from which it appeared that the Secretary of the Association "Bankers" Association, through their Secretary, Joseph Nimmo.

We furthermore have excellent authority of the genuineness of the Indianapolis document.

Then he goes on to establish the genuineness of which he knew to be a forgery, by saying that it appeared in the Springfield Republican and other quotes those commendations of that [illegible] proceeds:

Is it at all probable that's Journal of the highest standing and financial reputation at the Metropolis of Massachusetts, would give currency to a circular letter of which it was not sure? Is it so to be believed that the Republican would be so to be [illegible] to publish a document of this character, when a reference for such a course would be difficult to find? Is it probable that the Secretary of the American Bankers' Association, would be a party to the publication of the Secretary of the American Banking Association.

Much the adversary of the man, we had caught and dishonored by the act of perpetrating an infamous forgery! But while he was writing his heart-felt lamentations of the fraud, the lightning telegraph was [illegible] his rascality. While his pencil was clumsy up his reckless, reckless fiend of the fraud on the inside of his paper, there came to his very elbow, from the Associated Press, a dispatch that he dared not suppress, and he was forced to publish on the inside of the same sheet that contained his [illegible] indictment of the forgery, his unanswerable conviction in the following dispatches:

[From the Bangor Commercial, Aug. 31, Outside.]

New York, Aug. 31.

James Gordon Bennett, editor of the Herald, one of the President's Associates, declares that the widely published document is the basest forgery, having been prepared by persons only to cast discredit upon Secretary McCulloch's financial policy. Nearly all the newspapers of this city denounce the forgery, and declare that the genuine circular, issued by Secretary McCulloch, was in favor of paying off the bonds in coin. Secretary McCulloch is expected to arrive in this city to-morrow.

Now we'll allow more unanimously exposed! Driven to the wall, beyond escape by any possible equivocation, this man who paraded and exulted over that infamous forgery, as a means for exciting the passions of his readers, hypocritically whined in an little paragraph tucked away in an obscure place, as follows:

[From the Bangor Commercial, Aug. 31, Outside.]

We are glad to learn by a dispatch received at this office at half past three o'clock this afternoon, after the issue of our paper had gone to press, that James Buell, denies the authenticity of the infamous circular to National Banks which has been widely published and attributed to him. The National Banks are very powerful institutions and we should be sorry to see them attempt to control the legislature of the country, by the wrong means supposed in the circular.

Need we ask for our readers to judge of the character and designs of a cause whose leaders resort to such methods of deceiving the public? The Greenback movement has been based upon falsehoods and forgeries from the outset, and nothing short of such absolute and unavoidable exposure as in this case, has ever secured a single retraction. The time is approaching for the people of Maine to say whether Brick Pomeroys and Marcellus Emerys who are employing such infamous means to inflame the most dangerous passions, are the men to be trusted with the financial honor of this Nation.

SENATOR BLAINE.

A dispatch elsewhere announces that Senator Blaine had entertained a flying trip to Minnesota to meet an engagement contracted more than a year ago, to deliver an address at the Grand Fair at Minneapolis next Tuesday. We could ill spare him from our campaign, even for the few days that he must be away, but we could spare him to the gallant State of Minnesota as cheerfully as to any other part of the Union. Senator Blaine will have a glorious reception there, and the fact that he has been obliged to sacrifice six speaking days in the campaign in his own State, where the demands for his eloquent voice have been more numerous and pressing than ever before, will add to the gratitude our Minnesota friends will feel for the exertion he has made to keep faith with them. Senator Blaine will return at once by the fastest conveyance, to speak in Bath Friday evening and close the campaign as a penalty in Portland Saturday evening, Sept. [illegible].

PREPARE YOUR BALLOTS.

We commend to the Democrats in the various towns of the Legislative [illegible] the propriety of preparing a supply of ballots, to [illegible] to be sure to have in the polling-day disposition [illegible] election day. This duty should be attended to immediately on the nomination of the tickets by conventions of candidates for the Legislature.

We print elsewhere a letter by one of the Jury in the recent trial [illegible] of Emery Hogan, who takes exception to [illegible] to [illegible] to be a silent article. We apprehend the decision [illegible] that [illegible] against that [illegible] would [illegible] the Jury, as we did not, [illegible] to [illegible] Emery's paper [illegible] Democratic [illegible] and [illegible] Democratic [illegible] and [illegible] Democratic [illegible] and

MAINE NEWS.

SENATOR BLAINE.

A Lightning Trip to Minnesota—Returning to Close the Campaign at Bath Friday and Portland Saturday Evening.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 1. The Kennebec Journal of to-morrow will contain the following announcement: Nearly a year ago Senator Blaine engaged to speak at the Minnesota State Fair at Minneapolis Sept. 31. As the campaign in Maine developed into one of general discussion he was very unwilling to leave, even for a day, but his duties to be released from his engagement were unavailing. He reaches Minneapolis to-day, delivers his address to-morrow and returns to Maine at once. He will speak in Bath Friday Evening and close the campaign in Portland Saturday evening.

MARINE DISASTER.

PORTLAND, Aug. 31. Schooner Volant, hence for Annapolis, N.S., returned this forenoon in tow of the schooner Dreadnaught, having been run into at ten o'clock Thursday night off Seguin by a large three-masted schooner, name unknown.—She had her mainmast knocked out, lost main sail, bulwarks, etc. Capt. Balcom was knocked overboard and drowned.—The large schooner proceeded without offering any assistance.

The cook of the schooner George Isles, of Bear River, married, was also drowned. Capt. Balcom was also married and leaves two children. He was 45. The three masted schooner is supposed loaded with ice for Boston. She lowered a boat and picked up one man, an Indian passenger, who got overboard, sending him back aboard the Volant.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

THE FRAUD EXPOSED!

That Greenback Forgery Nailed!

GEN. BUELL DENOUNCES THE FORGERY!

[TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. James Buell, President of the Importers and Traders Bank of this city and Secretary of the Bankers' Association, declares that the widely published document over his signature, urging that support be given only to such daily and prominent weekly newspapers, especially the agricultural and religious press, as will oppose issuing Greenback paper money, and also urging that members of Congress be secured to control legislation, TO BE A FORGERY.

WASHINGTON.

The Land Office Clerks.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. To-day a discharge of clerks will be made from the office of the Commissioner of the Land Office. The persons selected are included in a list of sixty or sixty-five for removal, and will for the most part receive the news at their homes, as officials wish as far as possible to avoid the usual scenes of distress which occur when heavy discharges are made. The reduction includes the names of male and female clerks, the latter being in a majority. It is forced by the lack of funds to pay them, not because there is not work enough.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

The Horrible Record.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. Specials from the South say that a number of dead persons have been found in houses in Memphis. Dr. Watson, who had labored earnestly during the epidemic, was missed. Investigation disclosed his dead body in his room with all the appearance of fever.

The doctors at Canton are much discouraged. Nearly half the people attacked with fever have died. The estimates by the Howard's Association show 4000 fever cases in New Orleans.

Medical experts now postpone the date of the climax in September 15th, and anticipate the elimination of the highest mortality at 150 per day. Indignation against Mobile and Galveston for their indifference is strong in commercial circles. Neither has thus far contributed one cent to New Orleans and the Mobile Railroad proposes to sue Mobile for damages, resulting from the embargo on through trains, estimating the loss at $30,000 weekly. The latest tendency of the fever in fatal cases is congestion of the kidneys. At Vicksburg yesterday the highest number was reported with a very low mean rate, showing that the type of fever is materially changing for the better.

Washington Contributions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. Nine hundred and eighty dollars have thus far been contributed for the fever sufferers by the Masonic lodges. The amount will be largely increased. The fire department appropriated the salary of each member for one day, amounting to $145. The Navy Yard workmen, earning $1.25 a day contributed from 1 fifty cents to a dollar each. The officers with each exception contributed from $5 to $10, and quite a large sum was realized. The estimated contributions thus far aggregate $5,000.

THE WEATHER.

SIGNAL SERVICE U. S. ARMY, CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., Sept. 2—[1 A. M.]

Indications.

For New England: Partially cloudy weather, occasional rains followed by clearing weather, winds, mostly westerly, stationary temperature, and stationary or higher pressure.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Washington specials say that Evarts expects to deliver a political speech soon, perhaps in New York.

A Montana letter says that 200 starving Nezmecks came to Bozeman, and the chief informed the commanding officer that his people must be fed or permitted to hunt. They were then permitted under escort to move down the Yellowstone to join the Crows in a buffalo hunt.

A private letter from an official in Generande's command in Texas states that Colonel Rosecky recently detailed to follow the Indians across the Rio Grande, was ordered peremptorily from Washington to return to Texas, on account of the movement having become known in the North, and the effort made to prevent it.

The Tribune publishes a despatch to ex-Gov. Tilden, dated Nov. 14th, 1876, signed by Messrs. Randall, Lamar, Watterson, and Attended'orf, and urging that he make at once to Gen. Hayes the proposition they had consultated. The Tribune says that the proposition was that both candidates withdraw, and request Congress to provide for a new election. But it was never made to Gen. Hayes.

It can be stated that our government has not made any proposition in the correspondence with the British government looking to the establishment of a customs union or inviting a renewal of reciprocity between the Dominion and the United States.

The Tribune reports that much confidence is expressed by merchants in a general improvement in trade this fall. Large crops, increased foreign trade, the settlement of public lands and the general belief that the period of depression is nearly ended, are given as the reasons for hopefulness. A very large trade, however, is not anticipated. The city hotels are well filled with guests, including many Southern and Western buyers.

Judge Bennett, one of the United States Supreme Court Justices, having accepted a Republican nomination for a delegate to Congress, the question is presented under the civil service rules whether he is not required to resign.

FOREIGN NEWS.

SPAIN.

Funeral of Queen Christina.

MADRID, Aug. 31. The Spanish Minister of Justice and 150 functionaries left Friday for the Escurial to attend Queen Christina's funeral. The late Queen, according to a Spanish paper, left all her property valued at 2,000,000 francs to her children by Duke Rianzores, having in her life time given their pardons by Queen Isabella and the Duchess of Montpensier.

CANADA.

Arrest of Counterfeiters.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31. James Boyle and Thomas Checkley were arraigned yesterday charged with counterfeiting Dominion notes. Another of the gang is under arrest at Milwaukee. The police estimate that they have circulated $300,000 in counterfeits.

FRANCE.

The Exhibition Awards.

PARIS, Aug. 31. There is much dissatisfaction among exhibitors in consequence of a report that the official list of awards will not be published until Oct. 22d, the day following the ceremony of distribution and only nine days before the close of the Exhibition. The French journals urge the injustice and uselessness of such delay and demand that successful exhibitors be notified of the work of the class juries. One paper asserts that M. Teisserenc De Bost, Minister of Commerce and Director-General Krantz have agreed that satisfaction shall be given to exhibitors by informing them individually they are to receive and authorizing them to affix on their exhibits the nature of the award and it is thought other Foreign Commissioners will follow this example. All lists thus far obtained are unofficial, but there can be little doubt of their accuracy.

JAY GOULD'S COLOSSAL FORTUNE. The papers have a great deal to say about Jay Gould and his stock operations, but none of them have ever revealed the inner history of the manner in which he accumulated his colossal fortune. Messrs. LAWRENCE & CO., Bankers and Brokers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City, have just published the secret of the whole matter, and the new way for dealing successfully in Stocks by pooling or combining thousands of orders from City and Country, and operating them as one immense individual account—thus securing all the advantages of the largest capital and most experienced skill. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s circular gives "two unerring rules for success" in Stock operations, and many of their patrons have recently made large profits on small capital. One customer made $200 in 30 days from $40—another $500 from $75—another $750 from $125—another $1200 from $350. R. S. Webb, of Buffalo, N.Y., writes under date of Aug. 10th, 1878: "Messrs. LAWRENCE & CO., your obliging favor and remittance for $1,112.35, as profits on my 200 shares, is received. Accept my thanks, as I am very well satisfied. As you request, you may use this letter. I would recommend every one who feels disposed to speculate to send for your circular." The Working Church for August says: "We are not accustomed to commend one plan above another, but if people will speculate we feel impelled to point out the channels through which they can do so most safely and successfully. The confidence we express in the only principle in which great success has ever been achieved in Wall St." An article in *Frank Leslie's Ill. The city farm, under the skillful management of Superintendent Sands is yielding bountifully. We notice a plot of about four acres of beans the finest we have seen for years. On examining a few stalks they were found to average six pods each, with say thirty beans in each pod, a fair yield which will give a large crop for the amount planted. He has also a piece of beets for feeding stock, which are worth a ride through the farm to see.

RUSSIAN OPERATIONS. This afternoon twelve of the Russian ocean war ships arrive in this city on the steamer May Field and stop at the Bangor house. TEMPERANCE. A large audience gathered in City Hall yesterday at the Reform Club's public meeting, to greet Dr. H. A. Reynolds, the popular ex-rebbed reformer and the first President of the club. The Doctor's effort was by far the best he ever presented to a Bangor audience, and ought to, and will, prove a profitable one to the cause of reform. Mrs. Crossman and Mrs. Prentiss, of the Crusade, and Messrs. Alexander McKinnon, Moffatland and Wheeler, of the Club, also briefly addressed the meeting. The singing by Misses Osgood and Henry, and Messrs. Clothpath, Bean and Barnabee was richly enjoyed.

MORE ABOUT THE DOLLAR STORE MAN. The Boston Herald says that the preliminary examination of Hiram F. Mathon, upon a charge of poisoning Edward B. Biggins at Denver City, Col., was concluded on Thursday, having been begun on the 21st inst. The result of the examination was the holding of Marston to await the act on of the grand jury. The case will be remembered as being of peculiar cruelty, and the prosecuting officers have succeeded a establishing a chain of evidence of the most direct character, making the criminality of the prisoner a very apparent fact. Since the arrest of Marston, an unsuccessful attempt has been made to make way with one of the important government witnesses, and several other attempts to shield the prisoner have also failed.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS. — The Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias in session at Indianapolis, have elected the following officers: D. B. Woodruff of Georgia, supreme chancellor; G. W. Lindsey of Maryland, vice chancellor; W. Bryce Thompson of Tennessee, supreme prelate; John B. Stumph of Indiana, supreme master of exchequer; James Dardan of Ohio, supreme keeper of records and seals; Robinson Williams of Maine, supreme master-at-arms; E. W. Fisher of Columbia, supreme inner guard.

REV. G. T. PACKARD, Rector of St. John's Episcopal Parish, closed his labors with the church yesterday and it is now without a pastor. Mr. Packard, will devote a year or more to rest and recuperation, his health being somewhat impaired, before again assuming charge of a parish. During the time he has been connected with the church here he has won a wide circle of friends who will regret his departure as deeply as the members of the church. His scholarly attainments and earnest work will be missed from the parish and pulpit which have received the benefit of his ministrations during the past two years, and with him and his estimable wife will go the best wishes of all who have enjoyed an acquaintance with them.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE. About eleven o'clock last evening Office Allen discovered smoke issuing from the windows of the Daily Tribune office and immediately gave an alarm of fire. The department promptly responded and in a short time the fire was completely extinguished. It is not known how the fire started, but it originated in the press room which of course was thoroughly wet down and the type badly piled. The stock of unprinted paper was all removed, and it was estimated that the loss would not amount to more than $250; insured for $1000. The building which is owned by Messrs. N. C. Ager, E. H. Tibbets and John Lane was, it is estimated, damaged to the amount of $150, insured for $2000, all in Howard's agency. The water ran down into Messrs. Simple & Hinckley's store, and into the Bangor Edge Tool Company's establishment, but we were unable to ascertain how much they were damaged. While we have no sympathy with the purposes and objects of the Greenback establishment still we are sorry for the distruction of property.

MAINE INSOLVENT LAW. We have received from the publishers, Messrs. Loring Short & Harmon, Portland, a carefully prepared work under the above title, containing the insolvent law of Maine, with notes of decisions and blank forms prepared by Charles Hasty, Esq., of this city. The law it should be remembered is now in force. The statute has been recently revised and compared with the original acts in the office of the Secretary of State, and is published in a handsome and convenient form with marginal indices for ready reference. This work also contains an authentic publication of the rules of court and laws of proceedings which will be absolutely needed by members of the bar, registers, assignees, messengers and other officers of the court. The notes of General Hamlin, prepared as they are by one especially familiar with the insolvency law and practice under it from his duty as Register of Bankruptcy, are of especial value to the legal profession. With each section notes of decisions are given thus providing in a complete and convient form the whole body of the law of insolvency and saving practitioners the expense of purchasing a large number of reports, many of which are costly and out of print. From beginning to end the book is arranged in the most convient form possible for use and it reflects credit on both its compiler and the publishers. The volume has 164 pages, is bound in leather, and will be sent by the publishers, post paid, on the receipt of $1.50.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Our Calais correspondent writes: The Greenbackers tried to get up an excitement Friday evening to induce the voters of Calais to attend a meeting in Saint Croix Hall and listen to the arguments of J. R. Pierce in favor of repudiation, inflation, etc.

The weather was very favorable, but the crowd that assembled was small and composed of three classes. The largest number consisted of Republicans, who went out of curiosity; and they were like the man that took the load half dollar, not all they went of the curious kind. The next were those who had been uncertain in their views of the great financial question of the day and went there to learn something, and most of them came away with their minds made up to vote for Hale and hard money, and determined to do all in their power to keep such men as Kenney, Marsh and Pierce in the background.

Last and least were the Greenbackers and what few their ars in this place are made up of Democrats, soreheads and men who never know where they were going to be election day, but they have all been promised an office when Solon gets the old prize for his steers.

The speaker told the usual exaggerated stories that are common with the soft money men. If anything the rather out did anybody we have had down this way for making misstatements and enlarging on the truth. His own party came away disappointed and disgusted.

A Monster Republican Rally at Orono.

Able Addresses delivered by T. H. Hubbell, Esq.

Saturday evening a large delegation of our citizens accompanied by the Bangor Band started from the E. & N. A. depot at 8 seven o'clock on a special train for the purpose of attending the Republican Rally at Orono. On arriving at that place the Band marched to the Sandusky Town Hall, which was already filled with the most intelligent people of Orono, a few seats, however, having been reserved for the Bangor visitors, and when all were in every seat in the large hall was taken.

The stage was elegantly decked with choice flowers and presented an attractive appearance. Over the front of the stage was the motto, "We go for honest money," and several large flags were festooned about the hall. The band played a fine selection just after entering the hall, after which Samuel Libbey, Esq., called for three cheers for honest money and the speaker of the evening, and they were given with a will.

A. G. Ring, Esq., then called the meeting to order, and introduced T. H. Hubbell, Esq., Secretary of the Honest Money League, of the North West, as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Hubbell made one of his usual able arguments going over the entire ground of the financial dispute, correcting the misstatements made by the Greenbackers, and presenting facts and figures that can not be refuted. He spoke for about three hours in a clear and candid manner, holding the close attention of his hearers until the last word was pronounced.

At the close of the address, the Band played another selection, and then marched to the depot where the train was in readiness. The meeting was a grand success in every respect.

Republican Caucus at Dexter.

At the Republican Caucus at Dexter Town Hall, Saturday afternoon, Milton Libbey, Abbot of Dexter, was unanimous y nominated candidate for Representative to Legislature from Dexter and Corinna.

The following resolution was offered by J. Crosby, Esq., and unanimously passed:

Resolved, That a sound currency is the blood of business, that coin, or paper redeemable in coin on demand is the only sure and safe monetary system, sufficient also for the rich and the poor, and, for every honest business relation, and none but a speculator who lives by his wits and not by honest industry, is interested to have any other; that specie payment so long promised and so long delayed ought to be resumed January 1st 1879, and it would be a disgrace to the nation to repeal the resumption act.

The following was offered by H. E. Wood and it was also passed unanimously:

Resolved, That this Republican representative district cordially approve of all the candidates on the Republican ticket and will use their best endeavors to procure their triumphs at success.

Meetings in Rowell and Monticello—Nomination of Col. J. W. Porter.

S. W. Matthews Esq. and W. C. Clark Esq. spoke at Rowell Thursday and at Burlington Friday evenings. The attendance at both of these meetings was large and in earnest. Mr. Matthews also spoke at the class convention held at Passadumkeag on Saturday, when Col. J. W. Porter of Burlington was unanimously nominated as a candidate for the Legislature. Col. Porter is very popular and the people will work for him in a manner which will insure his election next Monday.

Convention at Abbot Village.

Mr. Editor: The Republicans of this Representative District held their class convention at this place last Saturday at eleven o'clock A. M. The Abbot delegation brought forth the name of J. F. Sprague, Esq., who was accepted by the convention. After the nomination Mr. Sprague was called for and responded with a few well chosen remarks. He said if elected he should support the principles of the Republican party and work for the best good of his constituency and the whole State.

Senator Hamlin and others addressed the people at half past one, and although the notice was short there was a goodly number present, and all admitted that Mr. Hamlin's address was one of the most candid discussions of the financial question that they ever heard. The Senator spoke at Monson Friday and at Blanchard Saturday evening.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

The Campaign in Cherryfield.

CHERRYFIELD, Aug. 30, 1878.

The political canvass is becoming lively in this vicinity. The Greenbackers were first in the field, Mr. Perry of Camden, passed through, speaking in most of the villages. He was not a great success, even in the estimation of his friends. He has a great deal to learn before he can accomplish much as a politicki' speaker. Veal is good where you can't get beef, but you like to know that it is really veal.

Mr. Leo Miller came next, and though he is unquestionably a smooth and plausible speaker, he was unfortunately reckless in his statements and demagogical in his appeals. Of course he made some impression for the time being. Greenbackers are demonstrative, and for a day or two it seemed as if some who ought to know better had been deceived and captured.

The Democrats have had no speakers. They seem to think greenback arguments better for their purpose than any of their own old and worn out stock in trade.

Last evening, the 29th, the Republicans held their first public meeting of the campaign. Hon. S. H. Millikin of Belfast, has been speaking in the county and was announced to speak here last evening. He was greeted by a very large audience, and for two hours was listened to attentively and eagerly. It is needless to say that he made a good speech; he always does that. But to hold a crowded audience, many of whom had to stand all the while, for two hours on so dry a subject as finance can only be done by a man who knows what he is talking about. The several objections, positions and criticisms of the soft money men were candidly examined, and their fallacies made apparent. Greenbackers are not nearly so chipper to-day, and not half as many of them. We mean to make a good report September 9th.

W.

Nominations.

The Republicans of the class composed of Eddington, Holden, Bradley, Milford, Greenbush and Clifton have nominated H. H. Shaw of Eddington for candidate for Representative to the legislature.

THE "EMMA HOPE" EMBARGO.

Mr. Editor: Whether it is better to disregard street talk, and to try and find out some fairly, by sworn and carefully sifted testimony, or to act on the presumption that a person of bad reputation has therefore committed the particular crime charged, and should be convicted without regard to testimony, would hardly seem to need discussion in New England. That Mr. Hoyt was not found guilty on his recent trial surprises very few who heard all the evidence. With the fullest desire to restrain and prevent crime, a jury would have been singularly constituted that could have agreed upon a verdict of guilty in that case. The amount of time consuming that would have been necessary to sustain the theory of the prosecution was simply enormous, and against your assertion that a majority of those who attended the trial were surprised at the verdict, I venture to say that on the contrary, not one per cent. of such disagree with the Jury. So far as heard from the members of the Bar are nearly unanimous in favor of the verdict, and so many of our prominent citizens have to me expressed their satisfaction with it that I feel justified in making the above assertion. If you mean to say that the various charges against the prisoner outside of the court room, made it seem very desirable to keep him imprisoned, I should certainly agree with you; but that was not the question committed to the Jury, and your words have been more surprised than you now are if they had addressed to decide it.

It was more important, said of much value to the community that the reputation of our court for justly and truly trying all cases, without regard to street clamor, should be maintained, than that even Jeremy Hope should be secluded for a term from what are said to be his usual occupations and occupations.

ONE WHO HEARD ALL THE TESTIMONY.

Bangor, Aug. 31, 1878.

THE ORONO AFFRAY.

DUFOUR AND DUBEY ARRAIGNED.

BOTH HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

BAIL PLACED AT $5000

Commission Refused at First.

The Frenchman named Theodore Collins who was stabbed in Orono a week ago last Saturday night, an account of which we published last Monday morning, died from the effects of his injuries last Friday morning. Corner Wilson was notified, and after holding an inquest the following was returned:

An inquisition, held at Orono within the County of Penobscot, this 30th day of August, A. D. 1878, before John R. Wilson, one of the coroners of said County, upon view of the body of Theodore Collins, lying dead at the dwelling house of Isaiah Le Clair in said Orono, the place of holding the Coroner's inquest which was continued by adjournment to the Town Hall in Orono, by the oaths of Nathaniel Wilson, Levi Emmett, Nathan Ward, Edgar E. Sawyer, Albert T. Dargie, K. E. Sweetland, good and lawful men, who, being charged and sworn to enquire for the State where, how and by what means the said Collins came to his death, upon their oaths say that said Theodore Collins came to his death by means of a deep cut in the abdomen with a sharp knife penetrating into the intestines, held in the hand and thrust in by one Frank or Francis Dufour or Defour, on the night of the 25th day of August, 1878. Several other wounds were found upon the right hip, on the forehead, on the right side, on the face, by the side of the nose and right eye, also somewhat severe, but only the wound in the abdomen deemed sufficient to cause death, although find that Ephram Dubey was counseled as accessory in giving said but was not guilty of cutting or stabbing.

Previous to the death of Collins, Dufour and Dubey had been arrested on a charge of an assault with an intent to kill, and as they failed to furnish $1000 bonds, both of them were committed to the jail in this city; and immediately after the death of Collins they were taken on a charge of manslaughter, and were in the Police Court Saturday. J. C. Wilson, Esq., of Orono, appeared for the State as County Attorney Hutchings was engaged at the Supreme Court. Mr. Wilson opened the case in a few well chosen words after which His Honor Judge Goodenow heard the

ARRAIGNED

for the prosecution. Dr. E. N. Boyd, of Orono being called testified. Early Sunday morning was called to the house of Isaiah Le Clair to attend the wounds of Theodore Collins of Oldtown; found an incised wound through the abdominal wall in the left hypogastric region about one and one quarter inches in length; and readily admitted my finger the whole length. The intestines protruded from the wound in a bunch as large as my fist, and were wounded in two places, cutting the blood-vessels, and causing them to bleed freely. I dressed the wound and had considerable difficulty in returning the intestines to the abdominal cavity; closed the wound with three stitches and applied a compress. I also found an incised wound on the right hip about three-quarters of an inch in length, which I closed with a stitch; also another incised wound on the forehead just above the nose, which I closed with two stitches. Immediately over the left eye was a contused wound about one and one-half inches in length, which I closed with three stitches. I also found several bruises on his left cheek, one on the point of the cheek bone, and the other about an inch higher up on the temple. Did not know where he received the wounds and asked no questions. During the day I visited him three times. He suffered considerable pain in the stomach and bowels. Dr. J. N. Norcross, of Oldtown, saw him with me, and approved my treatment. On Monday visited him twice and found him quite comfortable; on Tuesday morning found that he was also doing well. On Wednesday morning found Collins suffering considerable pain, pulse higher and more appearance of inflammation and vomiting constantly. Thursday visited the patient four times during the day and evening. He still continued to vomit and the wound in the abdomen began to discharge matter. In the evening found him in a dying condition. On Friday saw him at 3 A. M., and at 9.20 A. M. he died. To the best of my knowledge and belief he died from the effects of the wound in the abdomen.

Dr. Norcross of Oldtown, was then called and he verified the statements of Dr. Mayo as to the condition of the man during his few days' sickness.

The next witness Aarchie Seymour, a Frenchman, testified as follows, Mr. Frank Hammond, acting interpreter: Was at a dance Saturday night at the house of J. B. Berrihy, on the island side of Orono left dance at ten minutes past twelve; came across on Orono side and stopped at depot; was with Pooler, Dubey and Dufour, and several others; we sat down at the depot and three of the crowd went after liquor which we drank; after drinking Pooler and Collins, and myself started for home; got half through the railroad bridge, when Dufour and Dubey overtook us; Collins and Dufour walked ahead; Collins and Dufour stopped when nearly through bridge and others passed them; heard them having some words; and afterwards heard Collins say out that "he is pulling my guts out;" shortly after this Collins got away and started away when Dubey struck him; this affair took place at about 1.30 A. M.; when Dubey struck Collins he cried out kill the s——— of a b———; Collins started to run and told me to go for a doctor; Pooler followed them a short distance and then turned back; went to Isaiah Le Claire's; known Collins four or five years; first time I ever went anywhere with him; Collins was very weak before he arrived at LeClaire's; went after a doctor and staid with Collins until he arrived.

Geo. Pooler, of Orono, said—Was at the dance Saturday night; left at about twelve o'clock, and went to the depot; sent after a pint of liquor, had we drank it; from there Collins, Seymour and myself started across the bridge; they lived in Oldtown and I accompanied them a piece; when about half way through the covered bridge Dubey and Dufour overtook us; Collins and Dufour went ahead, saw Collins take off his coat; after some talk Collins put on his coat, and then struck Dufour; they clinched and in a minute Collins came up to me and said "I am knifed," while he was speaking to me some one struck him in the face; told him to go to a doctor, and he started off on the run; did not see any knife or brass knuckles; have known Collins four or five years; followed Collins a short distance and then turned back.

Mr. Wilson here read the following sworn statement from Theodore Collins:

I, Theodore Collins, of Orono, in the County of Penobscot, make affidavit and state that I had been to the house of J. B. Berriby, at a dance and was returning, and as I passed upon the railroad bridge sidewalk, I was attacked by Frank Dufour and stabbed in the bowels, hip and several other places with a knife. I saw the knife and when he struck me. I recognized him distinctly. I am not mistaken in the person who stabbed me. Another man by the name of Ephraim Dubey struck me with something hard, as he broke the skin and cut my head in two or three places. I do not know the cause of the attack, nor why assaulted. I saw Gen. Pooler, but I did not see or know of his touching me. I do not recollect him. The time was about one o'clock, as near as I can calculate.—Mr. Archie Seymour was a friend of mine and was with me at the time.

His
THEODORE X COLLINS.
Mark.

Attest—S. WILSON.

Aug. 28, 1878. Signed and sworn to this day. Before me,
N. WILSON,
Justice of Peace.

Mr. Wilson then produced the pants showing where they had been cut. The Court here adjourned until afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At three o'clock the prisoners were again brought into the Court room, and as the Government had no further evidence to present they were asked if they desired to say anything and replied that they did not care to testify. His Honor, Judge Goodenow, then said that the sentence for manslaughter was imprisonment for not more than ten years, or a fine not exceeding $1000; that he thought there was probable cause that the prisoners were guilty and bound them over to the February term in the sum of $5,000 each. The prisoners were then taken back to jail.
